	In June 2019, LHRC and CRR submitted a communication to the African Committee of Experts on the Rights and Welfare of the Child under Article 44 of the African Charter on the Rights and Welfare of the Child. The communication was filed on behalf of Tanzanian girls against the United Republic of Tanzania, seeking to defend their right to education as outlined in the Charter.
	The case raised critical issues, including the right to education, equality, and non-discrimination; protection from harmful social practices and stereotypes; the principle of the best interests of the child; the right to health, including access to sexual and reproductive health services; the right to privacy and dignity; and freedom from cruel, inhuman, and degrading treatment.
	In its 39th Ordinary Session, the Committee issued a decision finding Tanzania in violation of multiple provisions of the African Charter on the Rights and Welfare of the Child.
	After the delivery of the decision by the Committee, LHRC and CRR embarked on a journey to ensure its implementation and protect girls' rights. Since then, LHRC and CRR have supported the URT in implementing the decision, including conducting various meetings with relevant ministries to develop a roadmap and action plan for execution.
